ABOUT BLOOMINGDALE SCHOOL OF MUSIC
The mission of Bloomingdale School of Music (BSM) is to provide open access to high-quality music education, regardless of economic status, ability level, ethnicity, or religious affiliation. Established in November of 1964 in the basement of West End Presbyterian Church with piano, string, and voice lessons starting at 50 cents, today more than 650 individuals, from infants to seniors, visit BSM’s Upper West Side home each week for private vocal and instrument instruction, chamber ensemble coaching, orchestral performance, early childhood classes, and free community concerts.

I am truly grateful for how much MAP taught me, from musicality and technique to time management. This school has practically become my second home. From juries to competitions, each teachers’ feedback was unique, which was a great way to learn.
